

Dax Mausoleum

Stone-built mausoleum of neo-classical style comprising pitched roof having pedimented entrance front with square-headed doorway within a simple architrave having single-leaf metal door. Flight of steps descending to the vault below. Vault now partially submerged by encroaching ground levels.

Churchyard of St James
Bushey
Hertfordshire
WD23 1BD
England

Scan for Google Maps Link

Architects

Not Known

Year Built

1866

Style

Neo-Classical

Listing

--

Condition

The stonework looks all right but the iron door is in a poor state (2006).

History

The inscription on the mausoleum reads "In memory of Catherine Buckbridge widow of Thomas Dax Esq, Master of the Court of Exchequer, died April 9th 1866 at Sparrows Herne House, aged 70. Also Harriet Anne, wife of Owen T. Alger Esq, of Rosedale, Bushey Heath, who died January 30th 1858 aged 48".

Sources

Anon. (2003). List of Monumental Inscriptions. Available: <http://www.hertsfhs.org.uk/hfphs30.html>. Last accessed 22nd Jan 2017.

Photos

Location

SatNav Co-ordinates: 51.6446946452, -0.3675522782